

Learning Hub

Sophisticated yet simple tools that ensure your employees stay current and are engaged while also defending against divergent behavior through auditable courses.

Whether you're bringing on new employees or retraining existing ones, Convercent simplifies and improves your entire learning management process. Automate the administration and distribution of your content and you reduce time to training. Ensure that your employees company-wide, across all levels, locations and departments, receive the same information. Combined with information about your values, as well as policies and case reports, Convercent provides unprecedented insight into your organization's health.

Policy

Education

Values

Compliance

Automation makes delivering your trainings a breeze...

Convercent's multi-media player makes for state-of-the-art educational experiences that are both more enjoyable and more memorable. Link to your current educational provider, upload your existing materials or use one of our training solution partners. Whatever the source, Convercent keeps all of your standards-compliant educational content in one easy-to-access database. The software takes only a few days to set up and is easy to use.

Intelligent mapping of your organizational data allows targeting of specific groups at key times. Create a campaign that delivers education and policy content to one employee or the entire organization. Combine trainings with values-based initiatives to boost engagement. Log in from any device to make sure content is delivered whenever and wherever it's needed.

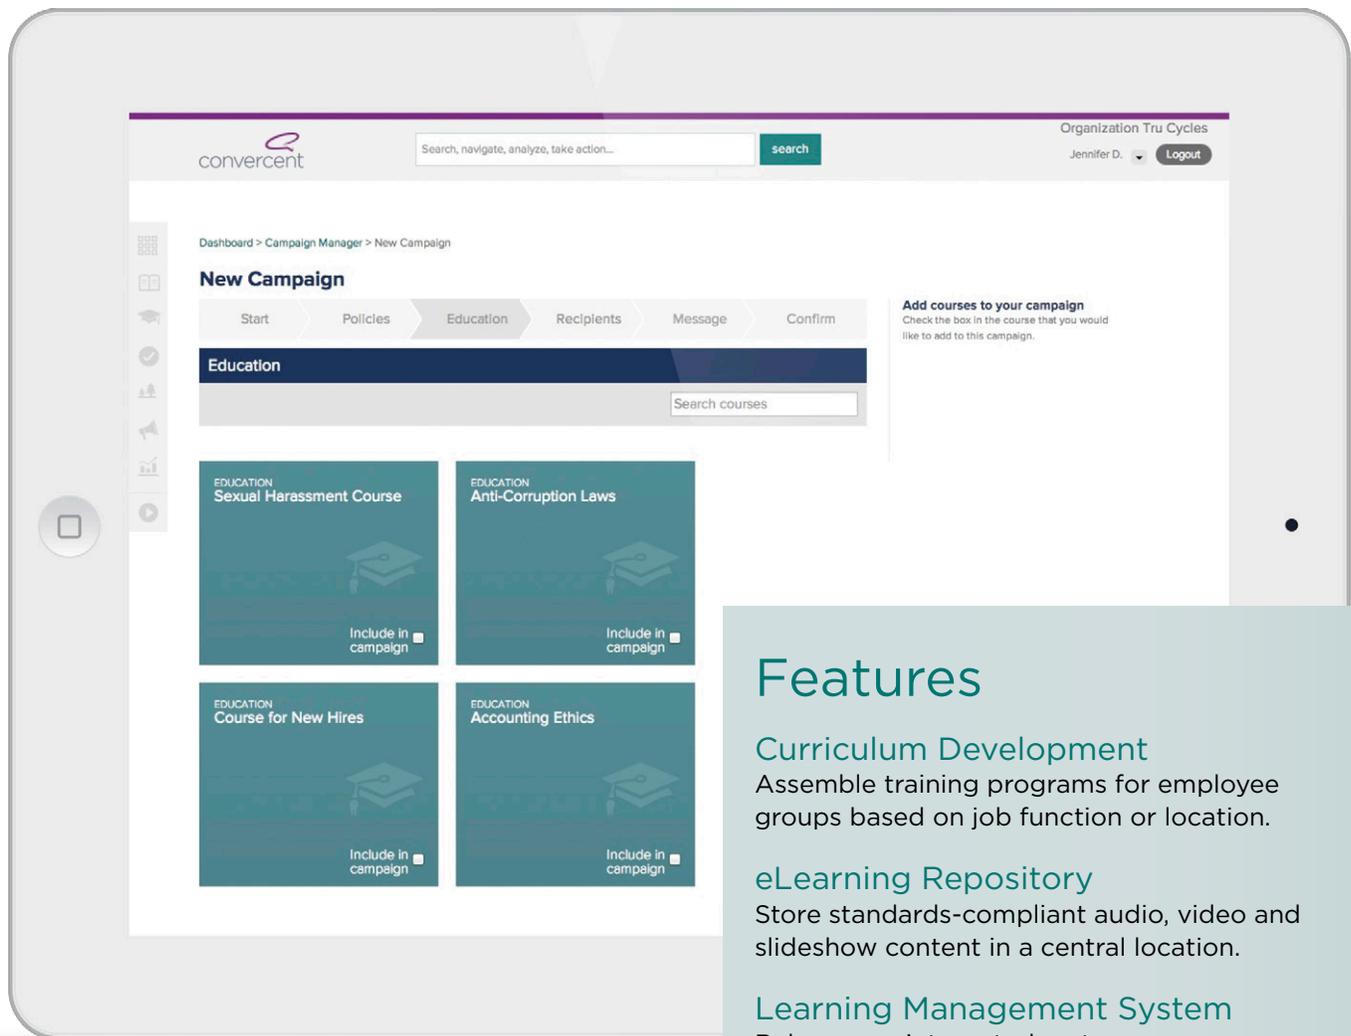

Capturing your staff's scores and understanding...

Delivery is only half of training. You also need to know if your materials were understood and internalized. Convercent tracks and records employee policy confirmations, course completion and test scores. Dashboards display in real-time the overall health of your educational campaign.

Granting you unprecedented insight to gauge the health of your organization.

For greater intelligence and insight, connect your trainings to the underlying company values and policies they support. Convercent's analytics and drill-down capabilities show exactly where your company is healthiest and where you need to focus attention. The Campaign Management tool enables a swift response to any at-risk areas and even makes suggestions on how to address your challenges.

Convercent's analytics and drill-down capabilities show exactly where your company is healthiest and where you need more attention.

Features

Curriculum Development

Assemble training programs for employee groups based on job function or location.

eLearning Repository

Store standards-compliant audio, video and slideshow content in a central location.

Learning Management System

Rely on our integrated system or use your own.

Course Distribution

Schedule employees' courses and notify them when it's time.

Tracking

Track employee course completions and understanding.

Convercent is turning compliance on its head. Through the industry's first intelligent dashboard, we give you multi-dimensional insight into your company's health.

Our integrated compliance and analytics solution builds healthy organizations by continuously assessing and managing company policies, tracking employee education and streamlining case management—all while keeping a solid emphasis on your company values.

The cloud-based solution is fast to set up, easy to use and accessible from any device or location. It's an interactive approach to turning insight into improvement and awareness into alignment. Changing your view of compliance can transform your organization.

Contact Convercent

For more information or to schedule a product demonstration, contact us at:
800.650.7005 or
info@convercent.com